A FIRST, Leis Chort (A FIRS), TALDOM A calching in the short in ther back there was nothing half so good even as these. People not yet much past middle agu can remember when sperm candles and oil iamps were the ne plans after of advance upon pine knots and open dishes of flat with twisted rags for wides. It is not much more than beenty years since knows each of illuminate the darkness. The manufacture of gas from coal and its use in lighting the streets of cities was regarded as something almost superhuman was regarded as something almost superforman and beyond belieft and by some it was regarded as sacrifegious attempt to defeat the will of the Minighay in anothing darkness to cover the Minighay in anothing darkness to cover the SSS Abol, all All Minish you cannot be also be as the superformance of the Minighay in anothing darkness to cover the SSS Abol, all All Minish you cannot be trained as the superformance of the Minighay in anothing darkness to cover the second of the Minighay in anothing darkness ed as a sacrilegious attempt to defeat the will of the Almighty in sending darkness to cover gives a graphic account of the changes wrought by lighting the streets and buildings of Lan-don, which hitherto bad been in darkness. don, which interits has been in accounts, obtained the cities petroleum has become and will long continue the principal Huminating agent, and within the cities the electric light will prefty certainly reallong become a competitor to no small extent with uss, parameters. ticularly for street illumination.

Several inventions for utilizing the directric light are now on trial in London. The trial takes the form of competition for excellence and cheapness. Each is given a mile of street to illuminate for a year at a fixed price. The Siemens company undertakes this for $17,100; the Lontin company for $13,150, and the Brush Clothing, Furrishing Goods. company for $7050. Edison does not enter the London competition. His representatives say that he wants to find out the attendest competitors, and will then agree to distance him. It may be a good while yet be one the electric light can be furnished as chein as gas. But when this point is reached there will be many reasons to give it the proference. It is bleah-or, healthier, less dangerous, easier put in and kept in repair. The discovery of so 'many ival methods of using the electric light and the competition between them must soon have the effect of reducing it to a minimum of cheapness, when it will be possible to say low far it will be able to compete with other methods of illumination.

FRENCH THRIFT.

the government of France asked for a loan of $200,000,000, and in two days the citizens of Samo,000,000, and in two days the cliffens of Paris subscribed for it all, and the agricultur, all districts took $4,000,000 in small schools at P. M.

Another evidence of their prosperfly is the report of the telegraphy. report of the school cavings hanks since they were established in 1845. To show how even the babies deposit in these banks it is stated that one bank had $20,120 on deposit in such small sums that they averaged only Struch. The success of these little savings banks in France oughs to teach the people of other nations a lesson in frugality and sconomy, and it leads the New York Tribune to remark; The incalculable trouble of maintaining such asystem, and the patience with which it is carried and urged by the inspectors of schools, show how much in carnest the thoughtful claises in France are in cultivating this habit of thrift. Even thoughtful Englishmen, Irishmen and Americans would be inclined to shring their shoulders doubtfully at the spectacle of babies hardly out of their cradle laying by their pennics and carrying hank-books, but for their answer we have the French peasant. clean, sober, gay, with busy hands and a full pocket, satisfied to remain in the home of his fathers, while the same classes in other nations are running to and fro all over the world to keep

The criticism of General Shorman conlinues He recently gave to the United Service Magazine a reason for violating Halleck sorders "to concentrate, keep theether and intremehit until Buell had joined his forces at Pittsburg Landing with Grant, which is equivalent to a conion of disobedience of orders. This is his statement:

It was mecsulary that a combat, ferce and, lifter,
to test the manhood of two armies, should cleane off;
and that was as good a place as any. It was loud then a question of military skill and strangy, but of courage and pluck.
"That is to way," remarks the Cincinnati

Gazette, it was necessary to expose our new volunteers, without organization as an army without dispositions to enable them to form a defensive and mutually supporting line, without positions or preparation for a battle, and without a commanding genera,, to be attacked by an army having all these conditions, in order to show to 'our enemies that, rude and untutored as we then were, we equild fight as well they.' Beasons so wild as this only increase the durkness on this affair."

Beauregard below the rank to which they were lastly entitled in the original distribution of the chief commands. He renoved Johnston from the command of the army of the Tourne-see at a time when he was achieving wonders, and precipitated the collapse of the confeder tions with the arch-conspirator and sumplot. It is truly said of Davis that he lost more through his personal entaities than be ever him fabulous sams; and when he was getting thom "developed" he took no chances: He first sub-lot the contracts at lowest possible figures, and time got the componention therefor raised to the highest possible figures.
